COMMUNITY UPDATE

Concept image; subject to change

Freshwater State School – multi-purpose hall construction update

The Queensland Government is delivering new facilities to support teaching and learning

The new multi-purpose hall is underway with construction on site ramping up.

Ground remediation works to the multi-purpose hall platform have been completed with the slab pour scheduled for late this year, weather and conditions dependent.

The covered court slab has been completed and a crane was onsite recently to erect the base structure for the new covered court.

The remainder of the covered court will be constructed over the coming months, ready for use Term 1 2027.

The next construction milestone scheduled for the multi-purpose hall is the completion of the ground slab with block work and suspended slab works commencing.

Thank you for your patience while the Department of Education delivers this important work.

Covered court concrete slab

Steel structure is erected for the new covered court

Aerial view of the multi-purpose hall and covered court construction works

Questions about the Freshwater State School new multi-purpose hall can be directed to BuildingFutureSchools@qed.qld.gov.au.