

Fact Sheet Key Messages Guide

Contractors, volunteers and visitors

Background

Part of the department's obligation to meet compliance against a range of legislations, including Work Health and Safety and Public Sector Ethics Act, requires a consistent approach to the management and induction of contractors, volunteers and visitors who provide services to schools and the department. To address this responsibility, in 2018, the department launched the Mandatory All-Staff Training Key Messages Guide.

The department has a wide range of people visiting department schools and sites for a multitude of reasons. The department is committed to maintaining a safe environment for everyone. Part of this commitment involves providing relevant information to ensure everyone is well informed and has access to further information as required.

The information provided in the Key Messages Guide covers important messages and responsibilities contractors, volunteers and visitors need to be aware of.
